Katie is the aunt to Josey, who will be five-months-old in December. She also has two of her own children that she cares for. She is doing everything she can do to take care of her niece and prevent her from going into the system. Due to health problems, she has limited funds to buy items for her niece and children. She has no extra money for gifts this year, so she would appreciate any help she can get to provide her niece and her children with a happy Christmas.
